ABOUT

An exceptional collaboration between american design and French craftsmanship

Par Excellence, the collective of the finest French Craftsmen, was looking for an American Interior Designer who knew French culture and heritage, to create a furniture collection.

When Guillaume Bouchez (CEO at Par Excellence) met Thomas Pheasant, it was a spontaneous perfect match, as Thomas has a wide knowledge of French culture and is an early adopter of French craftsmanship. They both decided to collaborate with the master artisans of Par Excellence, to give birth to an outstanding scenography and furniture collection.

This collaboration is a tribute to the long amicable tradition between France and the United States, especially in the design field and history.

These creations are showcased at the Par Excellence apartment
- 344 Bowery in New York City -
